*"Dina ord värmdde mig hela vintern" sa han och log. Den hemlöse mannens ord värmdde mitt hjärta.
Tillägnat en god vän. RIP.*

Remember who you are to be divine we must first know our unconscious mind our belief system creates our reality, its our journey we must learn that every action has an reaction we often reject the cause as well as the effect responsibilities we must face, the victim in us erase a conscious mind is always kind we need to remember who we are, be a star behind illusions lies the superconscious mind let love enter your body, be still and just be feel your own rhythm, be in centrum here we are the same, to the stars we aim we are all part of one, together we this planet run no harm is here to transmit only fulfillment we submit love is pure, unconditional love humans cure misunderstood the love is, many thinks its just a kiss your love is your light, it also shows your height the dark can not live in light, darkness is needed despite the dark builds the light, without darkness there is no light misunderstood the darkness is, behind you will find bliss the human kind are lost in fight, too many forgot the light the monkey mind creates illusions to all mankind in your soul you will find all that is in your mind when your mind is blind your emotions will you remind communication is an art listen to your heart all change start within, put all love in absorb the sweetness of passion, let it be your captain awaken the energy inside, let it take you on a ride Let the magic beam open up your dream find your missing puzzle piece, it will give you peace your Oversoul will lead you to your goal, you'll feel whole always remember your invisible crone, compassion will lead you home your wings has taken flight, you are part of the light
