

Publicerad 2012-04-08 11:37 av Samuel E. Rajeus

Bild: SVD.se // On the occasion of Günter Grass: What must be said, in the Guardian.

Günter Grass: What must be said

Günter Grass has right without any doubt.

Both Iranian and Israeli regime engage in criminal activities against other nations and sometimes against their own people. There is a double standard in the region when treating countries that have a good relationship with the US compared with the countries with a problematic relationship with the US and the West. It is indeed a fact.

I still believe that international community must do everything in its power to remove the barbarian Islamic regime of Iran that caused an enormous suffering for its own people in decades and it is a danger to the countries in the region and a threat to the world.

---

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren Samuel E. Rajeus med Poeter.se id #27852 innehar upphovsrätten