all love is just a fiction feel free to say sorry it was you who destroyed it all with a match you light up this fire inside of me it all became ashes

just as our bound

I once was lost and I thought I was found now I'm alone and without any direction you reminded me all the time that all love is just a fiction it doesn't exist

I thought you lied

but the truth did hit me just like a fist
