you are beautiful

what the hell do you do if you fall in love with a murderer?

the boy is controlled by the I fact, I want to be with him. he can ease any time to kill. kill my fear, my self-confidence, break my heart. with only a few words, he can crack a great future for me. but to think you can say things that put themselves in my memory forever? poor guy who has it for you. and yet,
I love you

I want you

I really want you
