en grej jag kom på bara

What if

What if hate was hard, would love be easier?

What if death didn't exist, would we fear life?

What if sadness and misery vanished, would we be happier or not happy at all?

What if we couldn't see, would we cherish our ability to hear?

What if we where not as intelligent, would we actually understand people better?

What if we couldn't talk, would we still try to listen or just not care?

What if war didn't exist, would peace ever be an option?

What if we weren't able to cry, would we actually miss it?

What if ...
