JUDGEMENT DAY

Now the worlds gone under.

The lands are no more.

And we are left at wonder.

What were life for?

We seek meaning every day.

The truth within our soul.

We search and hope and pray,
to find the greater whole.

But hatred then broke loose.

The bombs, the guns, the wars.

We couldn't find any excuse to save the beloved of yours.

Beauty has lost it's way.

Dreamers are waiting for more.

Our love has left with betray.

Our bodies lie broken and sore.

Now the worlds gone under.

The lands are no more.

And we are left at wonder.

What were life for?
