Death

We are only humans
who easily can be deceived too think they are immortal but then it happens like this

Someone disappears
the day after you spoke to them you didn't know they wouldn't last that their time would pass so freakin' fast

I said "Goodbye" and hang up the phone, she said she had to study, hurry to get home.
If I had known, would I have dared say,
You're one good friend, I love you - take care!

We got the message
being in school
you'd passed away
are now behind the rules.

It went so fast
We couldn't think
Tears running hot
Memories fading off

In my ocean of tears
I realised at last,
That you were gone
taken in a terrible blast.

Of silence.
