my twin sister

I found it long time ago,
a love long before birth.
A love that has grown bigger a nd faster then you would ever know.
A love with no strain attached.
The kind of love that won't hurt your soul.
My heart is hurting, so much love when i just think of her.
I would describe love as us.
Walking a line. With her, i'll never see any bad signs.
With her in my life i will be perfectly fine.
Friends keep on saying they'll ride and "die togheter"
but this is what i truly wish for,
deep down in my soul.
Let only that separate us.
