Angels with broken Wings

Even if you had a broken wing you could fly up into the sky
Even if you had a broken heart you could love somebody
Even if you weren't here with me I can feel your heart beat

When you cry the sun is shinnig on you cheek to wip it up
When you were froze and feeling alone I were there in you mind to warm you up
When you was down i get you up in the air and helpt you breathe

Now you live in the land far far away and in time we gone meet again
And til then I know that you are there for me, and help me up when I fall down And have broken my legs and wings

I Miss You My angel
