The man from my dreams

where are you hiding i chase you in my dreams why dont you turn around please hear my voice

my heart stops when i wake up days melt together, always a dull ache im looking for you are you looking for me too tall, ruggedly handsome, protective love me for who i am is it too much to ask for dont want to be alone anymore can barely get through a day want to be beside you looking high and low for the man from my dreams ill be juliet if you are my romeo i offer half of me, you make me whole save me from this life save me from me
