Prince charming?

God I'm such a girl writing all this bullshit about love and my prince charming

That's not the reality

You want me to tell you the truth?

The truth is that you'll get hurt, alot

Again and again and again

So don't go around looking for the man of your dreams who you think is going to save you and solve all of your problems, because he doesn't exist.

Look for the man who's worth taking all the fights for

The man who deserves it all

And I promise that he'll be the one that's gonna stick up for you no matter what.

Gosh, this became a love story after all, but you know what? Fuck it

Love with all your capacity and you'll be fine
