

I will be there

When all is said and done
Choking on your tongue
Fighting for air just seems fair
I will never shed a tear

How I long to see you die
Hope that you remember why
All the sadness and all the fear
No one left who gives a care

There's no life after death
Let me hear your final breath
As the end is coming near
You know I will be there