A silly song

En fånig text

You say that you don't usually read silly stuff
Not like me,
Who like to let my mind travel through
Magazine and books
Of space and letters
That burst into
Astrology hookups

So what if I write you a silly song
Something that sounds like

"Mmm Mmm Mmm"

To taste the sweetness of your lips
To turn up the volume of your laugh
And light the Watts of your smile

Would you shake your head?
Or shake your ass?
I wonder is it in vain
This silly song that I'm writing

You say that you don't watch silly TV-shows
About dating
But would you believe me if I'm waiting?
To let you know all about my feelings
Yeah I know you rather read books about
The Unknown Soldier

So I make my drum go
"Barap-pa poom poom"
To let you know, to let you KNOW
My heart is longing
To come knocking, knocking...

So if I was a question in TP?
Would you know the answer instantly
Or would you run to the library
To show me that you're right...

This is silly
So silly

"hi hi Hi hi Hihi hihiiiiii"
