An opening?

This might turn out great got offered a wonderful job and is now looking for a flat.
I got that special feeling in my heart even got the butterflies in my gut!
Might move back to the town where i grew up it might not be the best of places but hey, atleast i got most of my friends there.
Spend alot of long nights catching up make new friends and just having a wonderful time.
I can see how alot can get fucked up so i'm going to do my best nothing is going to bring me back down going to fight for this chance damn, I might even make my parents proud
