Her

Follow your heart not mine,
with you there's no mountain I couldn't climb.
I follow my heart, would you be mine?
Without you I couldn't climb.

I fell and broke my heart,
you fell and broke your heart.
Back to square one,
back from the start.

Your love brought me pain and the vision of death,
but you would never hold me as I take my last breath.
I know my past and my future and I know it'll be over soon,
I used to watch my life lust coagulate in a spoon.

I'm not suicidal and I don't want to die,
I just want the pain to end, let me jump to see if I can fly.
I miss her because it's you I miss and I feel alone,
I think I want to stay alive to see if I can grow.

We're both broken and that makes it perfect,
let's take the risk to see if it's worth it.
Do you remember the note and the xmas party? You gave me a note about love,
I read that note every single day, since now I know we won't share it anyway.

Ps. I'll be yours, from above.
