

The Gamer

My heart is trade
For so many tears
My fate is known
By so much pain

You know what I mean
You caused all of this
You you and more you
I'll never let them go

Even that you're gone
I'm so stuck with you
You don't know what you've done, but
I know the reason of every single drop that falls

You you oh yes you
The reason for my madness
I'm in shame for what I do
To me by every breath that I take

I'm sent to hell by you
That's why I did hide half of me in the past
There's the only paradise I've ever felt
Now it's my turn time to play hide and seek

See you later..
When I'll be found again..
Until then I'll just
Stay in the dark and laugh

After all that's how the game goes
Lucky me that I'm not shy to the dark
Yes lucky me that understood

The game rules to early to not get caught!
