

Publicerad 2015-09-06 11:02 av siamesen

Hittat i Sea Fishes of the Mediterranean sea (including marine invertebrates) av Lawson Wood

Found poem

LARGE ENCRUSTING SPONGE

[...]

It is quite often found growing on a Hermit Crab's shell, where it eventually dissolves the shell, creating a new secondary home for the Hermit Crab. This allows for the crab's growth pattern to get larger, without the need to change shells.

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren siamesen med Poeter.se id #21994 innehar upphovsrätten