I need you

I need you by my side

I need to feel you

Without you I'm lost and running around in shadow lands

Nowhere there you are to be found

When you're beside and give me your love

I have no reasons to look for treasures and gold

I can rest and my fingers plaited with yours

Together me and you far away from shores

Sailing at the seas, following the wind

Your hair wipes away the salt from my face

Your kisses have almost all cried tears erased

You close the gate to the shadows

All I need is your breath rolling over me

Slowly whispering to my soul that she's free
