more lyrics... "what's done is done? " perhaps? thoughts...

The days seems to be going now

Still nothing feels real.

I have this heart, these desires

That I need to feel.

Fire burning so slowly now

How can I even exist?

A look in the mirror,

Yes I know it's hard but you must persist!

Typ chorus:

Can't remember since I felt this strong

I really can undo all worldly wrong's.

Can't see your face,

but I feel you through song.

Can't heed this secret

But still what's done is done...

I can never forget the torment

Like a fire in my soul

But life has a way of consuming you

Like the fire around the coal

Oh

Seven days of wonder

Now seven days gone...

Can never show mercy to weaknesses

One must to learn to be strong...

Oh, guilt you not me

I must let you go...

Past is the past

And what's done is done...
