Do's, Dont's and Lost Ambitions

The attricion of the 35 hr work week is underway and is being studied by a royal comission behind closed doors where few will listen closely after years of indecision the Lords of computer software revision reveal that the findings are in contention while the high powers seek to steal elections through a series of distractions and attraction, like H&M knows sex sells. supervision creates collision between fiction and fact an atmosphere of collusion wafts to and fro a whole new division will be built in a fishbowl at Lidingös back door champagne will be served to those with laminated nametags or a quirky smiles, short skirts or bulging muscle shirts are allowed to walk the aisle the evening nutrition will be provided by the lads and ladies of the kitchen On their own volition hobo poets are seen on the fringe and now the night will brew sensation the evening comes to a rise, a surge and peak could the message of this mission result in Do's, Don'ts and lost ambition
