Cancer

Its all overwhelming

Burning my brain

Its an endless worry

An everlasting pain

If it all comes to an end

I wouldn't know what to do

Life wouldn't be life

If I had to be without you

I wish there was something

Anything for me to do

To make it all just go away

To heal you through and through

But the verdict is final

We did all there was to do

But how can I ever accept

That I can't save you
