Just out of sight in your dreams

I lurk in the shadows of your dreams, between dusk and dawn
I'm coated with stars as I stand beside you, keep you safe
In every dream you dream, I will be there

Just out of sight

As nightmares comes crawling to you, in the darkest hour
I am beside you, whispering that you are safe

When you are free from the demons, I return to the shadows
Behind your dreams

I will never be further away than your lightest thought
With my starcoat, you will feel my present, just behind your dreams when you close your eyes

Just out of sight
