Why coronavirus

The Earth is calling

The Earth is calling

In this final hour there will be sorrow you slipped throw the evils door you got greedy, selfish and wanted to have more

Many people suffer because you didn't care this is the prize you all have to pay

I've seen it before generations long ago started it all

Come be my warriors
I love you so much

Now it is no beg, steal and borrow know your own mind

Don't wait until tomorrow
this is your home

Please save my planet
that also is yours

This is my final call if you don't listen you destroy it all
