Letting go!

When it all feels empty it all feels sad
When you lost that feeling that you once truly had When his hands feels nothing his kisses feels fake and the silence between you keeps you awake
When the words are just empty means nothing at all And the love that we felt have turned to just a big black hole When we so stubber hold on to what we thought we had we let eachother down feels like i´m going completly mad when all thats lef of us are misunderstandings and hate

I guess it´s time for me to go now before all thats left of me are fake
