

Publicerad 2006-10-25 23:09 av Sorgmantel

Unfairness

Some babies get a really rough start, and when they finally pull through they have to live with a weaker heart.

What's that?

Some children have a hell when they grow up and when they finally break free,
they can only face life with a nasty glee.

What's that?

Some people work their whole life to earn an extra buck,
and when things finally improve they get hit by a truck.

What's that?

Some souls are lonely and cold,
and when they finally find a match they are far too old.

What's that?

Some of us have no faith,
and when we finally start to believe it's far too late.

What's that?

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren Sorgmantel med Poeter.se id #9246 innehar upphovsrätten