

Publicerad 2007-07-22 17:14 av Julia S

My bright shining

There was a flash
and now nothing is the same
The weather changed quicker than before It was a summer day
the sun was shining bright
But the darkness came and put away the light

I heard her scream
a lot louder than she spoke I saw my dreams
disappear so fast
She was the one I loved the one who shone so bright but it's all too late it put away her light

The pain I felt was killing me inside
I ran away,
didn't want to see
I miss her everyday
My love for her is bright
But the darkness came
and put away my light

So now I'm just this lonely boy Who's thinking of the past I wish I could explain to her my love will always last She didn't even know my name
she didn't realize I will always feel the same and that is not some lies

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren Julia S med Poeter.se id #17592 innehar upphovsrätten