No promises whatsoever, you know

Did I say I would?

Did I say you should?

I don't recall

making promises to you

I never asked

And you never said

So why feel sorry

tonight?

What touch?

What smile?

You overreact.

Nothing's been going on.

Yeah, that's right

That's just it

There just nothing going on here, you know.

Like when we kissed

and you said it was just passing time

while waiting for something better to come.

No, I'm not hurt

Why would I be?

I knew you were looking for someone

I knew it could never be me.
