you and i, and who is we?

You, you are a friend
And I spent a lot of time
To comprehend
What it was that was
And what is yet to be

I, I've been away
For longer then I thought
And I'm afraid
You won't seem the same
But I'll take the blame

I, I've missed your pretty voice
Missed your lips and eyes
Hips and nose
Every single day
For you I hope and pray

You, you looked me in the eye
Told me I'm useless
But let's try
Try to make it work
Until it doesn't work

I, I've been on and off
With you and without you
But so long
Everything is great
Like sex on the second date

I, I've been doubting
Everything and nothing
Back and forth
Like a dumbass sniffing lead
I crawl into your bead

You, you are the one
Who steal my dreams and Make me come

Running to your door
I'd like to run some more

I, I see you undress
And to your nakedness
My lips I press
Maybe if I'll close my eyes
I'll be between your thighs

I, I remember what you said
We're just a phase
And we'll pass
Sometime when it's time
Time to make a past

You, you calm me down
Tell me that it's over
When it's done
Like it is a truth

I'd hate to steal your youth
