Day by day

Last night didn't treat me well

My soul went to that place where the darkest shadows dwell

Where there is no sun, love or laughter, a place where no one wants to be

That's where my soul took me!

The shadows wanted me to stay didn't want me to see another day tried to make me lose my way

I found my way and gained this day now I pray that tonight

my soul won't lead me astray!
