Flower Power

~~ Flower Power ~~

(from "Collected Poems 1967-1967")

In blossoms there are a kind glorious flowerpower,
a shaftheightmight
which brings new rosebuds busttrust
to the cowslipstrifelife.

~*~

Flower power.

~*~

Of blossoms one get caulispious.
War is conducted by violetpistolettes
and tulipcannonships
and bombshell of pelargoniumuranium
in a lily-of-the-valley-battle-field.
Then you send a cat's-footnote
and talk anemonereason
with the enemies lingking and then the war goes up in a yellow star-of-Betlehem-flame.

Flower power.

~*~

And should some amaryllisliquorish get incapably cotton-grassedbuzzed, become bloom- and petalfittal
and get chrysanthemumsimpleton and start a queen of the nightfight with the local speedwellconstable
he then gets himself a soft and tender bluebellknell.
After that he becomes immortellewell.

Flower power.

~*~

O the sweet life I olivelive!
One takes oneself on a wind-floweringjourneying
to bloomRome,

feeds upon rose-bushmash
and pinkdrink.
In fresh legumecostume
one can on classical ground garlicfrolic
to honeysuckleCapitol
and perhaps columbinecombine
an henbanecourtesan
with a florawhore
whom for some modest flower-bedbread invites one to an herd's grass-interlude-amourous.
Then one should politely be milfoilgrateful.
And if one has no money cloverover
then one writes a chrysanthempoem,
a lovesick forget-me-not-down-dot,
and sings to a magnoliasignora
with a blouse of chlorophyllfulle so maybe she freely camomillewill.
And then when the pockets are flowerfairbare one is due to get on the thornroad and work in one's botanyfactory and wait for a new hayfriday
when one gets hair of the maidpaid in sugar-peabrief.

~*~

Flower power.

~*~

In blossoms there are a kind glorious flowerpower,
little ivylady!

Take off your orchidperkskirt
and your rosespanties
and shower your blooming ivybody flowerhappy and treeluckily
in our flower- and treelagoonspring!

Our flower power shower.

(This is also named "Flower Power" in swedish in "Collected Poems 1967-1967"...yes, that's right, of one of Swedens most famous stand-up comedians as early as in the 60's and anti-War personality who died in '85...Tage Danielsson).

Translated...

After the Death of my 19yr black cat Sabina had been buried in the Garden October 9th...
