

Publicerad 2009-02-09 16:16 av Johnny Joe

En låttext skriven av mig för några år sedan när jag lirade i lite olika band

Rock The Nation

We're the heavy metal generation

Set the world on fire and rock the nation

You say that we are living in sin but you should know that we're gonna win

If you see us walking in the night

You should know what's best for you

'cause if you trying to start a fight

you don't wanna know what we would do

You call us freaks who just booze and drink beer

You says that we're worse than death and you call our music a pollution

But if you don't like what you hear,

we can play so loud so you get deaf

Is not that a great solution?

We don't care 'bout what you say

Why don't they a look at themselves

Get out of our way and go and pick on somebody else

If you don't like the music that we play, well then you shouldn't listen and just walk away

Set the world on fire and rock the nation

We're the world's biggest sensation

Set the world on fire and rock the nation

See us fly and break the gravitation

Set the world on fire and rock the nation

We're the heavy metal generation

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren Johnny Joe med Poeter.se id #21405 innehar upphovsrätten