I am only me

I am only me
every cell that built me every straw on my body
I am only me

The expression on my face the stance my posture
the way I'm looking my entire structure
I am only me

The glint in my eye
revealing my whole inside the way of my heart
and my magical mind
I am only me

The principals that I'm built upon is the pride that fuels me the fire in my forge is the whole hell that drives me

And all that is uniquely me only me no one else

I am only me
