The Haven

Sail away she told me raise your flag and leave this haven
I don't want your ship standing in my harbor

Sail away she told me
let the wind take you far away
I don't want your ship here anymore

Oceans away I watch the horizon as the sun shes rising always looking back hearing gulls crying turn your ship spin your sail, I'm thinking

But sail away she told me raise your flag and leave me I don't want your ship in my haven anymore

Sail away she told me
let the wind take you
I don't want your ship standing in my harbor
