

Publicerad 2009-08-07 18:07 av Versailles

Embrace me

For unbelievable time I have hidden, from the beautiful love that was given,
only at the brink of age do you realise, how much that precious love grew in size,

You were my shield and my armor, you deserve much more honour,
I'm sorry that I've been blind,
I wish that time I could rewind,

To once more be held by your arm,
to feel that I could never come to harm, so many thoughts circling in my mind, regretting that I never were that kind,

You will be in my heart forever,
I will change my ways and be more clever,
Respect and love you as I should have done,
long ago when it begun,

There is alot of things I should have done, there were many battles that you should have won,
but always remember that I love you Mom.

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren Versailles med Poeter.se id #29811 innehar upphovsrätten