A Piece of Your Heart

gone, empty,

I know it\'s not fair

I know you now have empty space warmth, comfort,

even though it is there

I know you have hard times to face

I wish I could help you

I\'m trying right now

by trying to just comprehend understand what has happened and realize your shock

when that person you loved reached her end

gone, empty

I know it\'s not fair

I know you should not have that void

she was there

and you knew her

gone
