Remain after the Greeting of the Rain (Krutan)

(7 haikus with a silent 7th)

Raindance against cheek perhaps tears that shy away from the nakedness

to expose yourself

under the sun's hurricanes walk the salty beach

one open pupil

a near dear heart with a soul hands that will listen to be all of this to trust in a nearnesswish sing togetherness

when the teardrop falls shielded by the rain might be close by in close by and the souls union

wind and weather's playfulness new fresh breathing breaths the silent seventh

it too will only exist

if you want it to
