Break Your Heart

I want to break your heart so that I can give you mine.

You used to sleep with me

but now you sleep alone.

We laid together soul to soul

and I adored you so.

Now you've disconnected me and it feels so unfair.

I thought you were special

but nothing is ever special to you.

I want to break your heart so I can give you mine

(But I know it's too late for regret's now)

...but maybe If you see a glimpse of me someday

I will remind you of what we had and what we've lost.
