I've been dreaming about true love I searched far and wide, but I never found it

I waited a life time for it to come and it found me, but I messed up so bad and now it seems like it's too late

I've always told the truth but somehow it seems like a lie and now she's walking away and I am struggling to show my love for her

I'm slowly fading away everything I've ever cared for is leaving and now I got nothing left so this is my goodbye
