Inversed butterfly

Someday the inversed butterfly will face the light as you cut your hair in the mirror
The echoing sound of footsteps while class, is falling together with the sound of eternal rain.

I want to be connected to that person
Through his sky and my sky now
I can become poisoned fruit,
I know how to get what I want.

In this Craziness, You gave me life
I wonder how far I can go to protect a single life

You remember, inversed butterfly
When the ceaseless voices of people are like waves

While I believe it, the spreading melody
A gentle rhythm that seems to start weeping
It's always raining; continues into the future

Hey, feelings that can't be told in words exist
No matter how far people stretch out their hands
A place that they can't reach exists
Because I like each and everyone's soundless thoughts
Even if I don't become something, I remain unchanged on any day

In this Craziness, You gave me life
A single brilliance

In this Craziness, You gave me life
A single impression

In this Craziness, Uncertainty
Each and everyone's gazes

In this Craziness, You gave me life
A single coincidence

In this Craziiness, You gave me life

Whit a single promise
