Gods Love

Out of god come love,

In the weirdest of ways,

A being that instils fear,

Imposes ultimate rule in earthly days,

God radiates love,

To those who stay in line,

Love and freedom out of the picture,

When only obeying means your fine,

Be a dissident,

Riot,

Show your hatred for the sod,

Then through his love he will smite you,

This fantastic all-loving god,

He will strike you down,

For following his example,

This genocidal almighty being,

Isn't afraid to trample,

His low self esteem,

Tells of a killer with a vengeance,

A murderous entity,

Is the only resemblance,

A symbol of infinite good,

Is so far from the bibles truth,

A book that condones killing,

An eye for an eye,

A tooth for a tooth?

No wait,

I must ask,

Just how is it fair,

To pollute a countries water,

Forcing them to drink blood,

Mauling mischievous children,

For extortion,

Of Egyptian demi-god,

I don't know about you,

I'm not fond of the power-hungry,

I like my saviours,

To actually have some dignity,

Not act like a jealous teen,

Not murder millions of people,

Not wreck the lives of innocents,

Taking the moral high ground should be feeble,

With a story like this,

But instead this god is loved,

To be honest I don't care,

It's just I hate this god damn thug,

No pun intended,

Just telling how I feel,

I'll save my love for something worthy,

Or maybe even something real.
