In a Tared Palisade Mood (Yrre)

Here the hymns want to be sung as a frisky day towards the night one breath in a standstill will give birth to song and laughter bright

May life, may night follow thy path may firs reach 'gainst the skies may the trails be tread by eager steps and to love be drawing nigh

Clouds in the skies may be the giver of rain as life has to thrive up on higher 'cause there's nothing that can bring us life but the penance we had to suffer

Be still my heart of the clearest mind rest thy strength 'gainst my lungs a life to besing is all of my might and my earth 'tis my tongue
