All I wanted

I have lived my life way too wild
I have been naive, and a lonely child
I have searched for happiness and glory but I always found just another sad story

I wanted to show all the shine
I wanted love to be mine

I have seen love in hollow eyes
I have believed in romantic lies
I have search for love and passion
But what I found was only depression

I wanted to show all the shine
I wanted love to be mine

I wanted to show all the shine
I wanted love to be mine

Now I live my life calm and strong
I can see when something is wrong
I find my happiness and glory and no more sad story

I found love in my life and now I am my husbands wife
With the future on our fingertips and with kissing lips
