Carved in your Heart of Stone

Only fools would miss the message
That conveys with my eyes,
Only you would be so foolish
To think I'd close my eyes,
To the ignorance and words
With which you broke the shell
Of trust and love we had

Cut a slice of heart
With the sharpest knife,
The blood is not the only,
Love leaking out
Red is just a color
And you are only flesh,
I would be forever

Carved in your heart of stone
