your name upon my lips

I don't want to fall asleep
your name upon my lips
your breath..
your kiss..

I don't want to wake alone
my heart calls out in vain
a wish..
your name..

you're living in another world
here you're only dead
I know..
and yet..

what lies between my sleep and wake
it's like another place
on earth..
in space..

time is turned all upside down
I drift and float a while
it's dark..
I cry..

that's why..

I dont want to fall asleep
your name upon my lips
your breath..
your kiss..
