Losing Control

This beauty knows no fear,
one look, it's mighty clear.
Contact, love at first sight.
It has never felt this right.

What can I do,
when all I see is you?
Right from the start
you stole my lonely heart.
Now, once and for all,
I'm losing control.

Young mind, burning heart,
one touch and I'll fall apart.
Beauty takes away my pain.
It dissolves just like tears in the rain.

What can I do,
when all I see is you?
Right from the start
you stole my lonely heart.
Now, once and for all,
I'm losing control.

Wet eyes, strong desire,
one look will light my fire.
Kiss me, whisper my name and I'll never be the same.

What can I do,
when all I want is you?
Right from the start
you stole my lonely heart.
Now, once and for all,
I'm losing control.
