Found on a bathroom wall

I'm looking out for a change of heart, I wish I could play that part But I cant wait until I'm dead I'm looking out for myself tonight?
Wish I could stay behind damn

I'm having trouble to sleep at night, a clear sign I'm still alive just tie the tie a tighter knot
All the voices inside they tell me life ain't for us
just tie the tie a tighter knot

And all my friends are all liars and they cant seem to hide it just tie the tie and cut them off

I hate the drinkin at night
The barman thinks I'm alright, he just pours the liquour and fucks off But no one cares about their time, just make the money
go round, pour the liquour and fuck off

I'm an older soul
at least she told me so?
I'm an orphan born with my teeth outgrown and I'm awfully alone when the morning comes

Think I'll off myself, heres a gift to y'all
