Land of dreams

Preferences of my own illusions is the preference of my own reality, where I can runaway to the land of my dreams and hide for awhile. Don't try to track me down, because I might fool you in my country of dreams or might be so that I will invite you to join me. But then you have to show me your honest thoughts, so proove it and you will go with me on my path of dreams that is sacred and will be.
