My baby\'s song

I take the blame, I did it and I can't say that I didn't

I'm sorry, but my words mean nothing

Instead I'll do as I have been told and let you be

Just know that my love for you don't shades away

I'm going to show you that I'm the one you put your trust in.

I'll be a man, no longer a boy; I will grow together with my mistakes

Focused and prepared I'll be the man you deserve, no more bullshit

I'll give it all up for you, I'll make sure to see everything through

Yesterday I was beaten down, now I'm with you every second

I'm wrong I know, but to make it right I need to hear your song being played.

Play the song baby.....
