The Hungry Bum

Yum yum

shouted the bum

to a man with a bread for a head

He searched for some butter all through the gutter

but the results were just as we dread:

The breadheaded man jumped into his van avoiding becoming a meal

The bum began to cry since he didn't want to die starvation's not an appeal

He ran around in various loops begging diners for their soups but then the bum made a break to ogle on a dog of cake

When it finally was caught the bum gladly thought this is the best meal a homeless man can make
